

AUDITIONS CALL

Je m'identifie

by Michael Bowden

A play about teens, written by someone who knows them well!

Michael Bowden is a Fransaskois playwright from Prince Albert and a member of La Troupe du Jour's Cercle des écrivains.

A teacher for 26 years, he currently works at École Valois in Prince Albert, where he shares his passion for theatre with his students.

He has written several plays for young people and drew on his teaching experience and his students' experiences to create Je m'identifie.

Getting to know yourself

Navigating change

Finding your place

Adjusting to a new school year

Asking questions

Making new friends

Je m'identifie

Je m'identifie gives young people a voice!

It's the first day of school, but a lot has changed over the summer.

Is he still a boy? Is she still a girl?

What happens when friends – and friendships – aren't what they used to be?

With humour and honesty, these young people learn more about who they are.

The play's artwork is a linocut by artist Byrun Boutin-Maloney.

La Troupe du Jour is looking for performers aged 12 to 18 for this production!
Want to give theatre a try? Whether you have stage experience or not, we'd love to meet you!

Rehearsals begin: October 17, 2026

Performances: November 25-29, 2026

Studio Ian C. Nelson • 914 20th Street West, Saskatoon

To audition, contact Bruce:
artistique@latroupedujour.ca or 306-244-1040 ext. 2